Course Title: Business Writing

Reason for initiating, revising, or canceling:
A significant complaint that many business employers have today is that their employees do not write well, that they do not understand how and when to use standard business writing genres, and that they continue to communicate poorly even after being informed of their weaknesses. Employers often end up dismissing such employees or, at the very least, avoid giving them promotions or challenging projects to work on. This class is intended to ensure that you do not end up as one of those employees. This course is required for students enrolled in the Bachelors of Science in Business Management. This course would be a good elective for any student having achieved junior level status wanting a better understanding of the Business Writing requirements.
