Selection to the Nursing Class, starting this Fall 2024, will be completed before the Fall 2024 Semester. New and returning student orientation begins on August 2024. A letter will be sent to each applicant to the address designated on the application notifying each applicant whether they have been selected to be in the next Nursing Class.

Effective this Fall 2024 Admission Period: Pre-Nursing students who have not completed the prerequisites by the end of the Spring 2024 Semester will not be considered for admission. Pre-Nursing students who are finishing their remaining prerequisites by the end of the Summer 2024 Session can apply for admission for the Fall 2025 Admission Period the following year.

Nursing Program Admission Test

Since the Fall 2020 Admission, the NMC Nursing Department fully implemented the Admission Test. All eligible applicants who met the required prerequisite courses will be scheduled by the Department Chair to take this Admission Test, in which their scores will determine their admission into the Nursing Program for this Fall 2024 Semester. Applicants are welcomed to request a “study guide” and other resources from the Nursing Department to help them study for the Admission Test.

Please contact Andrew Mendiola, our Administrative Assistant, at andrew.mendiola@marianas.edu for more information.

Students who are completing their remaining prerequisites this Spring 2024 Semester will take the Admission Test on June 27-28, 2024.

Criteria for Passing the Nursing Program Admission Test (continued)

If the applicant has met all scoring criteria listed above, then the applicant has passed the Admission Test.

There will be no retake of the Nursing Program Admission Test once the student applicant did not pass the Admission Test for this Fall 2024 Semester admission into the program.

However, the student applicant may reapply for admission into the program for the following year, when the nursing program sends out a press release on accepting new applicants for admission for the Fall 2025 Semester. At that time, the student applicant will submit a new application for admission for the Fall 2025 Semester and then will be allowed to retake the Nursing Program Admission Test.

Final Criteria for Admission into the Nursing Program

Other Information

The Nursing Program has a higher grading scale than the prerequisite classes. The grading scale is as follows:

92 - 100%	A
84 - 91%	B
75 - 83%	C
60 - 74%	D
below 60%	F

You will not be permitted to proceed in the program if you earn a D or F in any nursing course or if your GPA drops below 3.00.

It is your responsibility to notify the NMC Nursing Department if you change your physical or email address or your phone number. The ability to receive mail in a timely fashion is important since the offer for admission is time limited.

When accepted into the program, you will be following the current Individual Degree Plan (IDP) that is in effect as of Spring 2023. When you sign the application, you are acknowledging this possible change in your IDP.

Those of you who are not accepted into the program this Fall 2024 Semester may reapply for admission into our program for Fall 2025. If you are double majoring, you are encouraged to work towards completion of that degree requirement while waiting to reapply. If you are not double majoring, you may consider majoring in Liberal Arts or another degree of interest.

If you wish to obtain a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree from another college/university after being accepted into the Nursing Program, you can start by looking at the Suggested General Education Elective Courses at the back of our Nursing IDP. These credits may be considered as transfer credits to a BSN Program of your choosing.
